Appendix A Parallel Monitoring Program Overview and Procedures

Parallel Monitoring Program November 7, 2006 General Election Program Overview and Procedures

I. Introduction

The Parallel Monitoring Program (Program) has been developed as a supplement to the current accuracy testing processes and is in addition to the ongoing security measures and use procedures currently required by Secretary of State. It is designed to ensure that votes are accurately counted and recorded throughout the state on Election Day. Eight counties, utilizing certified electronic voting systems used in polling place voting, will be participating in the Program for the November 2006 General Election. The participating counties will be disclosed on Election Day.

II. Equipment Selection

1. Two (2) units have been selected for testing in each county.
2. The Secretary of State has attached tamper evident, serially numbered security seals on the selected voting equipment to identify the equipment as part of the Parallel Monitoring Program and to provide additional protection against tampering.
3. Equipment name, firmware version, serial number and a confirmation that the equipment has been prepared for Election Day according to county procedures and the Elections Code has been documented; and the county election official (or designee) has been asked to verify the information as accurate.
4. The equipment has been segregated from the balance of the county inventory and secured on the county premises for housing until November 7, 2006. Encoders or voter card activators, voter access cards, supervisor cards, and other items necessary for testing have also been secured and will remain on the county premises.

III. Testing Approach

1. A testing approach has been created to provide a framework for developing test scripts; defining the roles and training of testers, observers and team leaders; documenting testing activity, discrepancy reporting and equipment security; and tracking test artifacts.
2. Within each of the counties, two precincts have been randomly identified from a subset of precincts that demographically reflected each county's voting patterns from the previous election.
3. The test scripts serve as the primary tool to achieve the main goal of validating the accuracy of the voting machines. Test scripts have been designed to mimic the actual voter experience. Each script represents the attributes of a voter (e.g. language choice) and specifies a candidate for which the tester should vote in a specific contest. The overall voting patterns by party used for the test scripts reflect the county's demographic makeup of the voters in the previous election.

IV. Test Team Composition and Training

1. Testing teams will be comprised of a total of 44 individuals including SOS employees, independent consultants, and videographers. Each county team will consist of five to six individuals, at least one (1) of which will be a Secretary of State employee.
2. The county election official will be informed of the names, roles and employment affiliation of all individuals who will be conducting testing activities in their counties on November 7, 2006. Information will be submitted to each county no later than November 3, 2006. The parties understand that last minute substitutions may be necessary due to circumstances outside the control of the Secretary of State. If such a substitution should be necessary, the Secretary of State will notify the county in a timely manner.
3. Team members will be required, at all times while onsite in a county, to display an official Secretary of State badge identifying them as a member of the Secretary of State Parallel Monitoring Program team. In addition, team members are required to adhere to county security procedures at all times.
4. Testers have been provided parallel monitoring program training, including hands-on training on the voting system they will be assigned to test. In addition, team leaders have been provided additional training specific to team lead responsibilities.

V. Test Execution

1. Test teams will arrive at their assigned county at approximately 5:45 a.m. (or at such time as otherwise agreed to) on November 7, 2006 to meet with the county election official (or designee).
2. In the presence of the county election official (or designee), team members will move, or monitor the movement of, the selected voting system equipment from the county storage area to the agreed upon testing room.
3. The county election official (or designee) and the Secretary of State's team leader will view the testing room to ensure that previously agreed to conditions are met (i.e., adequate lighting, power, tables, chairs, etc).
4. The county election official (or designee) will provide instruction for and will be available to assist or provide guidance on logistical issues while the team is in the county prior to and on November 7. The election official (or designee) is encouraged, but not required, to oversee the opening and closing of the polls.
5. Test teams will follow a specific test schedule that identifies set times of executing the test scripts on each unit. All testing activity will be video recorded.
6. During the course of the testing, the teams will complete a Discrepancy Report for each deviation from the test script and/or test process and for any issues related to equipment malfunction.
7. At the completion of the testing (the closing of the polls) each team will produce the closing tally report for their assigned unit(s) in the presence of the county election official (or designee). The test teams will not reconcile the tally tapes in the field and will have no knowledge of the expected outcomes. The tally tapes and memory cards will be secured in a pouch, sealed with a serialized tamper evident security seal and will be returned to the Secretary of State's Sacramento office.

8. Tamper evident seals serialized will be applied to the equipment and the county election official (or designee) will escort the Secretary of State's team leader and the equipment back to the secure storage area. The equipment will remain in secured storage until such time as directed by the Secretary of State.
9. The county election official and the Secretary of State's team leader will sign a form documenting the transfer of the equipment back to the county's secured housing area, the location and the time.

VI. Program Results

1. The analysis of the data and the reconciliation of actual to expected results will begin on November 8, 2006. The analysis will include a review of the tally tapes, ballots and discrepancy reports for all counties and the videotapes, as necessary, to determine the source of all discrepancies.
2. A summary of results of the reconciliation analysis of the equipment tested on November 7, 2006 will be compiled and made available to the participating counties as soon as the report is finalized, which is anticipated to be completed in December 2006.

VII. Other Considerations

1. The county election official (or designee) may assign county staff to observe the Parallel Monitoring team on November 7, 2006. The Secretary of State does request, however, that observers not be allowed to distract or interfere with the testers during the course of the testing activity.
2. The county election official (or designee) shall determine what, if any, other observers, including but not limited to members of the news media, and the public they wish to allow observe the parallel monitoring team on November 7, 2006. The Secretary of State does request, however, that observers not be allowed to distract or interfere with the testers during the course of the testing activity.
3. The county election official (or designee) may utilize reserves to replace units and/or card activators/encoders selected for use in the Parallel Monitoring Program.
4. The county election official (or designee) maintains the right to inspect any and all film, personnel, bags or equipment brought on to or removed from county premises.
5. In the event of a breach of the tamper evident safety seals, the county election official (or designee) may request that the Secretary of State randomly select a unit(s) from its reserves and continue with the test and document the change consistent with testing protocol.
6. Testing artifacts removed from a county site will be returned to the county within 90 days of the completion of testing or at such other time as may be determined by the Secretary of State. If the Secretary of State retains the artifacts beyond 90 days, the counties will be reimbursed for the cost of the artifact(s) retained by the Secretary of State. Testing artifacts will include, but may not be limited to, memory cards, voter cards, and supervisor cards.

Reimbursement of Costs Associated with the Program

The Secretary of State's Office shall bear the costs associated with the Parallel Monitoring Program.

Note: Secure all equipment needed to conduct the testing (to operate the DRE voting system in a polling place). This will include, but may not be limited to, two DRE units, and for each of the DRE units, if applicable: a Spyrus, 2 supervisor cards, 10 voter cards (several in case of failure so we won't need to bother the ROV), an extra AccuView printer or extra paper rolls, and the DRE keys. Discuss this with the ROV to ensure all equipment is secured.

Seal all ports, the front of the DRE units and the DRE cases with SOS numbered seals and document the seal numbers and locations of the seals above. Place the Spyruces, supervisor cards, voter access cards, and the DRE keys in SOS pouches and seal and record the seal number above. For any other equipment or item required, but not listed above, seal in such a manner so as to make any tampering evident. Sign your name and record the date on each of the seals. Seals must be rubbed hard to ensure an effective seal.

1 Introduction

1.1 Purpose of the Training Plan

The Training Plan defines the approach to develop and deliver training for the November 2006 General Election Parallel Monitoring Program (PMP) and gives an overview of the PMP curriculum and materials. It describes the following:

- The training tasks to be performed
- An overview of the training to be developed
- Who will be trained
- The responsibilities of everyone involved with the training
- Identified risks that could impact the training

All testers participating in the PMP need to receive training both on how to use the various types of Direct Recording Electronic (DRE) voting machines and how to perform the parallel monitoring testing on the voting machines. Videographers will also receive training on their particular duties during the testing. The training for both the testers and videographers also provides background information on parallel monitoring of elections and the security protocols required for the PMP for the 2006 General Election.

1.2 Training Plan Scope and Approach

The PMP for the California Secretary of State (SOS) training will consist of separate classes for testers, team leads, and videographers. The Training Plan covers at a high level the content of the training, the materials provided during the training, the agendas for the training sessions, and the approach to training.

The training sessions will consist of four (4) hours of training for testers and an additional two (2) hours of training for team leads. The four hours of training includes a two to three hour session led by the equipment vendor, which will provide the hands-on interactive training necessary for effective and rapid adult learning. Alternate trainers will attend an additional vendor training session beyond that taught in their initial four-hour session. The training for testers and team leads will be conducted at the Secretary of State building in Sacramento within two weeks of Election Day, November 7, 2006.

The videographers will not attend the training sessions in Sacramento with the testers. Instead, all videographers will participate in a training conference call within two weeks of Election Day. The training for videographers will focus on the activities performed by the videographers, the goals and requirements of the PMP, and the security protocols required for the testing.

The Training Plan documents the activities and primary responsibilities related to developing the training materials and delivering the training. The Training Plan also provides a summary of the types of materials that will be developed for the training. The Training Plan does not provide a detailed accounting of all training materials or all training activities.

Figure 1 summarizes the major activities and primary responsibilities related to the PMP training.

Training Risks	Identify potential risks that could impact the PMP training	VIP

2 Training Responsibilities

2.1 Description of Training Responsibilities

VIP is responsible for developing the training materials for the PMP and delivering the training to testers, team leads, and videographers. VIP is also responsible for coordinating the vendor's portion of the training and coordinating the scheduling of the training sessions for all testers. VIP will also communicate the training schedule and requirements to the testing teams to ensure that all team members are able to attend the training. SOS and VIP will conduct the conference call with the videographers to provide training specific to their duties in the counties. VIP will also coordinate travel arrangements with the assistance of the SOS for any testers who need to travel to Sacramento for training classes.

Prior to the training, VIP will put together binders for each tester that will include copies of the training materials and CDs with soft copies of any available machine-specific poll worker's guides, voting machine manuals, or voting machine quick reference guides. In addition to receiving training information at the training sessions, all testers will receive testing materials that they will need to transport to the counties on Election Day for testing activities.

Prior to the training conference call for the videographers, VIP will put together binders for each videographer that will include copies of training materials and instructions for the videographers on Election Day. These binders will be sent either to the vendor, South Coast, or shipped directly to the individual videographers prior to the conference call.

The SOS is responsible for delivering the portion of the training regarding Help America Vote Act (HAVA) timesheets, State travel expense and reimbursement policies, and confidentiality agreements. The SOS will also provide the same information to the videographers during the training conference call.

The four vendors involved in the PMP, Diebold, ES&S, Hart, and Sequoia, will each send one representative to one of the four training sessions. Each representative will bring at least one voting machine unit that can be used to demonstrate how to use the voting machines.

3 Training Methodology

3.1 Training Development

With the exception of the materials distributed by the SOS at the training, all training materials will be developed by VIP. The training materials will be composed of adapted materials from previous parallel monitoring, new materials developed for the current PMP, and vendor materials specific to the different types of voting machines.

In the weeks preceding the training, VIP will put together binders for the individual testers that will contain all of the training materials and other information required for the testing including contact lists, checklists, maps, and other PMP instructions. The binders will include quick reference materials on the voting machines specific to the testers' counties, and a CD that will contain a variety of materials on the voting machines.

VIP will also put together binders specifically for the team leads at each county and the alternate testers, who will also receive team lead training and vendor training on two different types of voting machines.

3.2 Training Delivery

The majority of the tester training will be composed of hands-on training of the different types of voting machines, which will be conducted by the voting machine vendors. The vendor training will last between 2-3 hours and will include instructions on (list not exhaustive, and varies slightly by vendor):

- How to set up the voting machines
- How to set up handicap assistance hardware
- How to open polls on the voting machines
- How to cast votes on the voting machines
- How to close polls on the voting machines
- How to run and print tallies on the voting machines
- Troubleshooting problems that can arise with the voting machines

In addition to the vendor training, the training for the testers will include approximately one hour of training on the PMP procedures that will be required on Election Day. This supplemental PMP training will include videos from previous PMP testing, which will provide a good visual aid to illustrate how the testing will be conducted, and the types of mistakes that might be encountered during the testing. This portion of the training will require a television and a VCR to present the brief recordings.

Training Plan

California Secretary of State Parallel Monitoring Program

The training will also include an instructor-led discussion on the background of PMP testing, the timeline of the testing this year, and the tasks that will be required on the day before Election Day and during the testing on Election Day. The training will include a review of the different documents and procedures that will be used during the testing, including:

- Contact lists
- Maps to the county testing facilities
- Checklists for the testing
- Test scripts
- VHS and DVD labeling
- A timeline of the day, including a list of scheduled breaks, meals, and testing cycles
- Instructions on when to fill out discrepancy reports
- Instructions on when to contact the Project Manager in Sacramento
- Instructions on how to handle any irregularities during the testing (worst case scenarios and "what if" scenarios)

The team leads will also be required to have an additional two hours of training that will address security protocols at the testing site, a checklist of all tasks required on Election Day, and a checklist of materials that must be taken to the counties. The team leads will be the primary point of contact at the counties, and they will be responsible for overseeing the testing process, overseeing the testers and videographers, and communicating with the Project Manager in Sacramento.

The videographers will receive a binder with information prior to the training conference call. Their training will focus on the goals and requirements of the PMP, instructions on what needs to be filmed, and how to label and handle the VHS tapes and DVDs recording the testing.

3.3 Training Methodology Execution Responsibilities

VIP will develop and deliver all of the training materials required for the PMP except:

- Voting machine demonstrations specific to each county, which will be provided by the vendor representatives
- Poll worker guides that could be provided by the counties and included in the training materials
- Information on State travel expense procedures, HAVA timesheets, and confidentiality, which will be provided by the SOS.

4 Training Audience

4.1 Audience Identification and Notification Process

The training audience for the PMP will include a total of up to 44 people including:

- 20 VIP consultant testers / analysts
- 8 SOS volunteers
- 16 videographers

The videographers will receive specialized training on their specific roles and responsibilities during the PMP testing and they will not attend the tester training sessions. The SOS will coordinate the training conference call with the videographers, which should be scheduled at a time relatively close to the tester training.

After the testing team members have been identified and the training schedule is finalized with the vendors, VIP will communicate the training schedule to all testers, including both VIP consultants and SOS volunteers. The testers will be notified in a timely fashion shortly after the vendor training schedules have been finalized. The notification to the testers will include details on the location of the training, recommendations for parking, and special instructions for team leads and alternate testers. The notification will also summarize the content of the training sessions for the testers.

After notification has been sent, the testers will confirm their testing dates or notify VIP if there are any conflicts with the training schedule.

4.2 Audience Identification and Notification Process Roles & Responsibilities

The SOS will remain the primary point of contact with the videographers, and will coordinate the training conference call for the videographers. The conference call should be scheduled around the same time as the four tester training sessions.

VIP will notify VIP and SOS testers about the PMP training and will remain in communication with the testers until after the sessions are complete and the teams are ready for the PMP testing activities. VIP will also communicate with the identified team leads and alternate testers to coordinate the additional training sessions that those individuals will need to attend.

5 Training Materials Overview

5.1 Training Materials

Training materials will primarily be provided in the form of binders that the testers will be able to take home with them. The testers will be required to bring these binders with them to the counties for the testing. The binders will also include CDs that may contain additional information about how to use the voting machine equipment.

The materials provided by VIP for the training will include, at a minimum:

- Videos of previous training, including normal voting and an example of a problem that can occur during voting
- Poll worker guides, troubleshooting guides, and/or quick reference guides for the voting machines
- Videos on how to use the voting machines, if available
- State travel expense information and instructions
- Test scripts
- Checklists for use before leaving for the counties
- Checklists to use when preparing for testing
- Maps with directions from the hotels used in common by the test teams and the testing facilities
- Contact lists, including team contact information, county contact information, and VIP and SOS contact information
- Descriptions of how to handle emergencies and potential problems during the testing

5.2 Materials Overview Development Roles & Responsibilities

VIP is responsible for putting together all of the training materials provided to the testers. The SOS may be asked to provide any materials they might like to include in the training binders, including HAVA timesheets, expense instructions, and contact information.

6 Training Delivery

6.1 Delivering PMP Training

A PowerPoint presentation showing the training agenda and key points will be used to guide the training throughout the session. Depending upon the training date and vendor visits, the training agendas could vary across the different sessions. Each training session will begin with an instructor-led introduction on the PMP and a brief history of previous parallel monitoring. The training will then include a detailed breakdown of the different activities and timelines required during the parallel monitoring. Training binders will be distributed that contain the documents each tester will be required to take to the counties for Election Day.

To help illustrate the testing process, a brief video captured during a previous PMP will be presented. In addition, a second video clip showing an example of a common problem that could be encountered during the training will be shown. These video clips will be very brief, because the vendor demonstrations will cover similar material and will be more useful for the audience, who will be able to directly interact with the equipment.

After the testing process is covered thoroughly, the vendors will provide hands-on training to the teams. This will make up the majority of each of the training sessions. The goal of this portion of the training is to ensure that all of the testers are familiar with the voting machines, and how they will need to use the voting machines during the testing.

Before the end of the training session, the SOS will present instructions on how to fill out HAVA timesheets, State travel expense forms, and other related documentation.

6.2 Training Delivery Roles & Responsibilities

VIP is responsible for coordinating and providing the PMP training delivery for all training sessions. The vendors will provide the hands-on training for all of the voting machines, and the SOS will provide instructions on how to fill out HAVA timesheets, travel expense forms, and confidentiality forms.

7 Training Schedule

7.1 Training Dependencies

The only requirement for executing the training sessions is for the vendors to be present and provide instructions on how to use the different types of voting machines. Without the vendor training, the majority of the training would be lacking, and testers would likely encounter significant problems using the voting machines during the testing.

Detailed documentation on most of the voting machines is available for the training materials. Types of documentation that may be used include county poll worker guides, voting machine manuals, quick reference guides, and troubleshooting guides. If some of these documents are not available, any of the other available documentation will be provided to supplement the hands-on training provided by the vendors.

7.2 Training Expected Start Dates

7.2.1 Hart Training – Orange and San Mateo Counties

Training for the Hart eSlate voting machine has been scheduled for Friday, October 27th. Team lead training for Orange and San Mateo Counties will be conducted from 9:30 a.m. until 11:30 a.m. on October 27th. Training Plan close the polls at the end of the day. Team lead training for Sacramento and San Francisco Counties will be conducted from 1:00 p.m. until 3:00 p.m. on November 2nd.

7.3 Training Scheduling Roles & Responsibilities

VIP will coordinate the communications with the vendors to establish dates for each of the training sessions. VIP will also coordinate communications with all VIP and SOS testers after the teams have been identified and the training schedules finalized.

The SOS will maintain communications with South Coast and the videographers, including setting up the training conference call with the videographers. VIP will assist the SOS with coordinating the training conference call.

8 Training Risks

8.1 Training Risks

There are a few risks that could impact the PMP training efforts. The list provided is not exhaustive and is provided to help initiate discussion on ways to mitigate any risks that could impact the quality of training or that could impact the overall PMP efforts.

8.1.1 Potential Risks

- Vendor(s) do not commit to providing training, or cannot provide equipment for hands-on training
- Tester(s) cannot attend training sessions
- Videographers cannot participate in the conference calls
- Training materials sent to videographers does not arrive before the scheduled conference call

8.1.2 Potential Mitigation of Risks

- Vendor(s) do not commit to providing training, or cannot provide equipment for hands-on training
 - Coordinate with the counties, e.g. Sacramento, to conduct training at the county site
- Tester(s) cannot attend training sessions
 - Testers may be able to attend portions of classes on other days, but must attend the vendor training for the voting machine they will be using
 - If testers cannot attend vendor training for their county, we will try to switch their county assignments to allow them to attend the appropriate vendor training
- Videographers cannot participate in the conference calls
 - Videographers who miss the training should still receive the training materials. It will be their responsibility to contact us with any questions. Team leads at the counties can help supervise the videographer activities.
 - According to South Coast, most of the videographers will have participated in parallel monitoring in the past. This experience could help prevent issues if an experienced videographer misses the conference call.
- Training materials sent to videographers does not arrive before the scheduled conference call
 - SOS must get shipping information from South Coast in time to overnight the materials to each videographer. Standard overnight delivery should ensure that the videographers receive the information at least the day before the conference call.
